Educational goals and characteristics	This fellowship is offered through the North Sydney Orthopaedic and Sports Medicine Centre. The centre is one of the major private orthopaedic and sports medicine practices in Australia. The position is attractive to orthopaedic surgeons wishing to gain experience with diseases of the knee and joint arthroplasty, particularly in the sports medicine environment. Extensive involvement in clinical research is assured due to the concentrated caseload in these areas of orthopaedic surgery and also the availability of a full-time research department. The fellows participate in the regular consultation and surgical program, including patient examination and follow-up, and also surgical assistance where accredited. Opportunities exist for ongoing involvement in the compilation and presentation of scientific papers.
Requirements/ criteria	Fluent English Overseas orthopaedic surgeons are approved for entry to the fellowship under strict criteria that they have obtained an Australian Occupational Trainee Visa and that they leave at the end of the appointment.

How to Apply	Written applications are received on an ongoing basis and notification to successful applicants is generally determined twelve months in advance of placement. Applications should include a detailed curriculum vitae and the names of three referees with whom the applicant has worked. Applications should be send via post to the address above or email to lpinczewski@nsosmc.com.au
