Educational goals and characteristics	This fellowship aims to assist the fellow in gaining sub-specialty experience in hand and upper limb surgery. The hand and upper limb surgeons in the department provide a full range of services including trauma, arthroplasty, arthroscopy, and reconstruction. Services that are not routinely provided in our unit are congenital deformity and brachial plexus surgery. There is an expectation for the fellow to participate in research over the year and there will be protected time for this. The Gold Coast University Hospital takes hand and upper limb work from the Gold Coast region which has a catchment population of over 500,000 as well as being a major tourist destination.
Requirements/ criteria	The fellow will have completed specialist training at FRACS level or their local equivalent. The fellow will need to gain medical registration through AHPRA QLD.
How to apply	Applications, including detailed CV and the names of three referees should be submitted to Dr Ezekiel Tan at esltan@yahoo.com or in person.
